

Recommendation to the Chairman of the 14th Asia Oceania Congress of Nuclear Medicine and Biology

May 10th, 2019

Prof. Akram Al-Ibraheem

Director

Department of Nuclear Medicine, King Hussein Cancer Center

Prof. Akram Al-Ibraheem is current President of Arabic Society of Nuclear Medicine and Vice President of Asia Oceania Federation of Nuclear Medicine and Biology. He is one of the founders of the Arabic Society of Nuclear Medicine, and organized the First Congress of the Arabic Society of Nuclear Medicine in 2018 in Amman, Jordan. He participated the activities of International Atomic Energy Agency on behalf of the Arabic Society of Nuclear Medicine and contributed an education guideline for nuclear medicine professionals in 2018.

He is Fellow of Asia Nuclear Medicine Board after the Third ANMB examination held in Shenyang in 2016, and now contributing to foster next generation nuclear medicine professionals as an Examiner of ANMB examination and member of Asia Nuclear Medicine Board.

Considering the balanced venue within the region, the leadership, and current activity in the field of nuclear Medicine, I recommend Prof. Akram Al-Ibraheem as Chairman of the 14th AOCNMB held in Amman, Jordan in 2021.
